NEW BORNEO LANDING; JAP CITIES HIT

AUSTRALIANS DRIVE TO EDGE BALIKPAPAN, RICH OIL DISTRICT

HEAVIEST SUPERFORTS RAID LEAVE JAPANESE CITIES IN FLAMES

By LEONARD MILLIMAN
Associated Press War Editor.

Japanese snipers tried again to get Gen. Douglas MacArthur when he joined Australian veterans yesterday in a third Borneo invasion front dispatches disclosed today as nearly 600 firespilling Superforts struck the war's heaviest air blow against Japan and submairnes claimed 11 more enemy ships.

A British submarine sank a 10,000 ton Japanese cruiser of the Haguro class in the Southwest Pacific. American submarines bagged ten more — two small warchaft, six freighters and two tankers—running their wartime total to 1,163.

A record 4,000 tons of incendiaries scattered by B-29s set fires raging through four Japanese cities including Nippon's magnesium producing center and the Kure naval base.

MacArthur Directs Invasion.

General MacArthur personally directed the Sunday morning invasion of the Balikpapan oil area on Southeastern Borneo. Enemy snipers spotted him when he visited the most advanced position and sent a hail of bullets singing around him. Combat troops ducked. The general remained erect, and unharmed.

Five thousand Aussies, by Japanese estimate, made the Balikpapan landing after the most elaborate naval and aerial preparation of the war.

Assault waves swept aver abandoned enemy beach defenses, through accurate mortar and artillery fire and seized the last ridge before the blazing city of Balikpapan by midafternoon Sunday. The ridge was littered with enemy dead. Many Japanese were reported fleeing to the jungles.

Three-Cornered Grip.

The invasion, with previous landings May 1 off the northeast Borneo coast, and June 10 at Brunei Bay on the northeast shores, gave the Aussies a three-cornered grip on the island. General MacArthur, who landed four hours after the first assault wave, said the allies had now secured domination of all Borneo and had virtually completed tactical control of the Southwest Pacific. Brunei Bay and Balikpapan have good fleet anchorages from which the allied forces can continue inroads into almost any remaining sector of Japan's southern Empire.

ACCUSED MATRON CABLES HUSBAND TO RETURN TO AMERICA

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., July 2.—(AP)—Mrs. Imogene Stevens, 24-year-old wife of Major G. Ralsey Stevens, 3d, a Paratroop officer, held under $50,000 bail on a charge of manslaughter in the death of Albert Kovacs, 19-year-old submarine sailor, cabled her husband to come home.

Nothing had been heard officially from him but a deputy at the jail said "it was understood the major had been granted leave and was on his way back from Germany.

It was reported that Mrs. Stevens' father, J. O. Dumas, a Pampa, Texas policeman, who came here last week to be with her, would return tomorrow to Texas taking with him her six-year-old daughter by a previous marriage, Paula Kathleen Funderburg.

The child is the daughter of Carl Funderburg, a soldier recently returned from Germany where he was a prisoner of war.

At Amarillo, Texas, Funderburg, when he heard that Dumas was bringing his daughter back to Texas, said I'll talk with Dumas as soon as he gets back to Texas. I'm pretty sure I'll retain custody of Paula Kathleen."

Enemy Losses In Philippines Now Placed At 419,035

MANILLA, July 2.—(AP)—With scattered Japanese units cracking before the steady advance of Americans and Filipino guerrillas, enemy losses in the Philippines have risen to 419,035, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters said today.

The total includes 9,774 prisoners, somet of whom are predicting an early peace.

The enemy retained several strongholds on Luzon in the mountains northeast of the summer capital, Baguio, including Bontoc, Mankayan and Kiangan. Resistance was reported weakening, however.

Most American forces were resting after their long campaign. In the Cagayan valley fighting was principally between guerrillas and isolated bands of disorganized Japanese.

A war department intelligence service officer, Col. Albert L. Warner, said American forces have lost 11,715 killed and 1,131 missing in the Philippines campaign—a ratio of 31 Japanese dead for every Amrican dead or missing. His estimate of Japanese dead in the Philippines was 300,000.

GREATEST FLOOD OF FIRE IN HISTORY IS VISITED UPON JAPAN

FOUR IMPORTANT ENEMY INDUSTRIAL CITIES UNDER DELUGE BOMBS

WASHINGTON, July 2.—(AP)—Superfortresses returned to Japan today, less than 24 hours after striking the heaviest aerial blow of the war against the empire in fire raids on four important industrial centers.

The new raid, carried out by a medium force of about 50 B-29s, was directed against industrial plants at Shimotsu, south of Osaka, on the main Japanese home island of Honshu.

The raiders, flying from the Marianas, delivered the attack at night (Japanese time), dropping explosive bombs.

Headquarters of the 20th Air Force here reported the attack and said that details will be released when the bombers return to their bases.

GUAM, July 2.—(AP)—Fierce fires raged through four Japanese cities today, touched off a record 4,000 tons of incendiary bombs rained down by nearly 600 Superfortresses.

It was the greatest fire strike ever made. Bomber crews returning from the early morning raid said some fires were visible 120 miles away. Formations hitting three industrial cities on southern Honshu, main island of Japan, would see the glow from flaming cities raided by other flights.

(Two B29s were lost in the raid but 20 crew members of the planes were rescued, 20th air force headquarters reported in Washington. The Superfortresses normally carry crews of 11 each.)

Officially results were "good to excellent." Jubilant airmen described the raid on Kure naval base as "wonderful."

Veteran raiders said "the best fire concentration" they've ever seen lighted Ube, Japan's greatest magnesium producing center. The entire waterfront was aflame,

VETERAN AUSTRALIAN TROOPS IN THIRD PHASE TRIPLE INVASION

By SPENCER DAVIS

MANILA July 2.—(AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur braved death unruffled as Australian troops upder his command stormed ashore at the great oil port of Balikpapan Borneo, Sunday.

The veteran Australian Seventh smashed ashcre after the most intensive pre-invasion bombardment yet unleashed in the Southwest Pacific.

Japanese resistance was aggressive to light. It increased as the Diggers thrust inland steadily.

A Japanese sniper fired eight shots as General MacArthur and a brigadier general cooly continued to study a grid map of the large-scale invasion operation. Others of the general staff ducked automacically.

By the middle of the afternoon they had won the last ridge looking down on the ruins of the town and refinery and its still-blazing oil storage tanks. They had taken an elaborate series of tunnels and pillboxes which the Japanese had deserted in the face of the furious naval and air onslaught.

Toughest Opposition.

Toughest opposition was on this last ridge, which Associated Press Correspondent James Hutcheson said was littered with dead Japanese, many of whom obviously had been killed by bombs and artillery fire, although others were chopped down by Australian machine gunners and tanks.

Although commanders had anticipated strong defense of this strongly1gunned enemy base, first losses were declared officially to have been light.

This was due in part to the 3,500 ton month-long pre-invasion bomb ing by the U. S. 13th and Fifth Air Forces and to the shell and rocket fire from the U. S. Seventh Fleet with Dutch and Australian units supporting the landing.

Their weight of metal was described as heavier than the combined tonnage fired in the Leyte, Lingayan Gulf, Lozon and Manila areas.

TEXAS COMPANY'S REFINERY IS UNDER FEDERAL CONTROL

PORT ARTHUR, July 2.—(AP)—The Texas Company refinery was operating under government supervision here today following an order by President Truman designed to end a walkout of 530 negro employes.

One of the nation's greatest producers of 100-octane gasoline and navy fuel, the 5,000-worker plant was taken over yesterday by A. P. Frame, director of refining for the Petroleum Administration for War, and Harry King, his assistant.

Frank L. Wallace, manager, continues to run the refinery under supervision of the PAW.

William H. Davis, director of economic stabilization, recommended seizure. In a statement he said that 56 000 barrels of the refinery's daily output of 135,000 barrels of oil products are assigned directly to military needs.

The work stoppage followed suspension of 22 negro employes last Wednesday. A union official said it was caused by "racial discrimination as to pay."

In New York, M. Halpern, vice president in charge of refining for the Texas Company, said in a statement that the presidential action was "the result of the violation by certain employes of their obligations under the contract between the company and the oil workers International Union, Local 23 (CIO.)"

It was the second refinery in Texas to be taken over by PAW in less than a month's time. Last June 22, the Humble Oil and Refining Company's refinery at Ingleside, Texas, was seized.

Frame and King walked into the plant and handed D. P. Bailey, general superintendent, the seizure order. Bailey greeted the officials, then posted the order on the refinery's bulletin board.

"We regret the necessity for this action but the Texas Company will co-operate in every way to maintain production," he said.

JAMES F. BYRNES IS CONFIRMED WITHOUT DISSENTING VOICE

FORMER SUPREME COURT JUSTICE IS NEW SECRETARY OF STATE

WASHINGTON, July 2—(AP)—James F. Byrnes confirmed unanimously by the Senate today as Secretary of State, succeeding Edward R. Stettinius, Jr.

Action was taken in a matter of minutes after the nomination was received from the White House.

The Senate suspended its rules which require hearings on cabinet nominations and a day layover before a vote can be taken on such an appointment. This was done as a tribute by both Democrats and Republicans to the man who served them, for years, later was an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court and more recently director of war mobilization.

The Senate even telescoped its original plan to wait until after President Truman presented the United Nations charter before acting on the nomination.

Confirmation placed Byrnes next in line for the Presidency, under present statutes, should Mr. Truman not complete his term.

Minority leader Barkley moved to suspend the rules almost as soon as the nomination was received from the White House.

Majority leader White of Maine concurred, asserting that 'we all know Mr. Byrnes personally" and adding that his length of service in high government "leaves no doubt in anyone's mind as to his qualifications."

Confirmed by Voice Vote

By voice vote the Senate then approved the appointment.

The confirmation gave President Truman his fifth cabinet member of his own choice.

Byrnes, long-rumored selection to succeed Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., was announced at Kansas City last Saturday shortly after the last of four previously-chosen new cabinet members had taken the oath of office here.

Byrnes, who left the Supreme Court bench at President's Roosevelt's bidding in 1941 to become economic stabilizer and 'assistant President," seemed almost certain to win immediate confirmation without the formality of Senate

Richard E. Carey Drowned Sunday In Refinery Lake

Richard Edward Carey, aged 15 years, was drowned shortly after noon Sunday in a Magnolia lake near the old refinery site in South Corsicana, while swimming with a cousin, Robert Johnson, aged 12 years, 545 Holmes street, Dallas. Relatives said the body was recovered about an hour after the accident occurred.

The cousin, reconstructing events leading up to the drowning, said they (the two boys) swam across the lake and while swimming back, Carey sank. Johnson said that his efforts to rescue his cousin almost caused his (Johnson's) strangulation by the struggling boy. He said that a man (name unknown) tried to aid them by holding out a stick to them.

Funeral services will be held from the Corley Funeral Chapel Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock with interment in Oakwood cemetery. The rites were conducted by Rev. W. O. Harmon, minister of the First Christian church.

Surviving are his father, J. E. Carey, Corsicana; mother, Mrs. Georgia Sterling, Wortham; a brother, Jordie Carey, Corsicana; two sisters, Frances Carey and Mrs. Willie Lee Harding, both of Corsicana; grandmother, Mrs. Ida Whorton, Corsicana, and other relatives.

DECENTRALIZATION OF GERMANY MAPPED BY CONTROL FORCES

AMERICAN OCCUPATION TROOPS MOVE TOWARD BERLIN THIS WEEK

PARIS, July 2.—(AP)—Plans looking toward the complete decentralization of Germany were mapped by the U. S. group o fthe Allied Control Council today as American occupation troops trekked toward Berlin preliminary to the Big Three meeting there later this month.

Dispatches from Frankfort said members of the U. S. control group were moving to Berlin with the American troops and within 10 days would be in a position to place their proposals before representatives of Russia, Britain and France.

The American program for decentralization of Germany — both politically and economically—calls for breaking Germany down into a number of "lander," or military districts.

Work already has begun on breaking up the United States western reich district—one of two military areas over which the American army will have control—into three "lander." American regional commanders will assume control over all German governmental agencies within their own region.

Advices from Frankfort said a similar policy was expected to be carried out throughout Germany as soon as the program can be

Japanese Cruiser Sunk By British Sub In Pacific

WASHINGTON, July 2—(AP)—The navy announced today the sinking of a Japanese cruiser by a British submarine operating under American control in the Southwest Pacific.

In addition, the communique said U. S. submarines have reported the sinking of 10 enemy vessels in Far Eastern waters.

The 10 were listed as a converted gun boat, a patrol escort vessel, 4 medium Merchant vessels, a large tanker, 2 small Merchant vessels and a small tanker.

The cruiser was of the Hagura class. Jane's fighting ships described this class as of 10,000-ton standard displacement with a complement of 692 and carrying 10 eight-inch guns.

A navy spokesman said the British identified the submarine which sank the cruiser as the HMS Trenchant.

United States submarines have sunk a total of 1,163 combatant and non combatant Japanese ships. This does not include the sinking of the cruiser announced today.

STRIKE SITUATION OVER COUNTRY IS RATHER SPOTTED

By The Associated Press.

Some 38,000 persons appeared to be ready to resume work today (Monday) in strikebound plants, but 50,100 remained idle while the government took over operation of a Texas Company refinery where 530 employes were out.

The situation by industries:

Glass—Plants of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co., and the Libbey-Owens-Ford Co., strikebound for 10 days, were to resume operations today. The federation of glass, ceramics, and Silica sand workers (CIO) announced 15,000 were going back, but Local 14 in Fort City, Pa., was reported to have voted 3,000 strong against working.

Motors—An AFL-CIO jurisdictional dispute, which had made 23,000 persons idle in auto plants appeared smoothed oupt. Some 22,000 men were going back at Packard Motor Car Co., and another 1,000 at the Motor Products Corp., Detroit, planned to return.

Rubber—The number of idle in Akron, Ohio, swelled to 33,000 bringing an almost complete shutdown of the industry as 16,300 at the Firestone Tire and Rubber company joined 16,700 strikers at the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co.

Petroleum—The government took over operation of the Texas Company's Port Arthur refinery under terms of a Presidential order which asserted the dispute with the Oil Workers International Union (CIO) threatened "irreparable damage to the war effort." The stoppage began last Friday, and William H.

GEN. MACARTHUR'S NEW VICTORY IN BORNEO INVASION IS REAL DOUBLE TRIUMPH FOR ALLIES

By DeWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Foreign Affairs Analyst.

General MacArthur's grand new victory in Borneo—this time in the amphibious invasion at the great oil port of Balikpapan on the east coast—is a double triumph.

As the General himself points out, by securing domination of Borneo the Allies have split the East Indies and virtually have completed their tactical control of the Southwest Pacific. That in itself is a notable achievement, but it's far from the whole story.

The oil wells of Borneo produce large quantities of petroleum so pure that it can be used for fuel, lubrication and Diesel power without refining. The conquest of Borneo thus will give us a badly needed oil base right in the heart of the operations against Japan.

Borneo, of course, had been Japan's principal source of oil until our blockade severed her communications with Indonesia. Since then she has been largely dependent on her reserves. The petroleum of Borneo, Sumatra and Java for some time has been to them like Midas' gold—worthless.

We salute our Australian allies in this Borneoshow. It was seventh division Aussies who surged ashore at Balikpapan, just as it was "Diggers" who made the landings at Tarakan, on the northeast coast of Borneo, May 1, and at Brunei Bay, on the northwest coast, June 10.

Balikpan was heavily defended, but the most intensive pre-invasion bombardment ever made in the Southwest Pacific softened up the Jap resistance so that Allied casualties thus far reported have been light.

HOUSE COMMITTEE REFUSES TO GIVE FEPC ANY MONEY

DELEGATION OF NEGROES FROM NEW YORK SOUGHT TO SUPPORT BILL

WASHINGTON, July 2—(AP)—The House appropriations committee today refused to recommend funds for continuance of the Fair Employment Practices committee—FEPC's second rebuff of the day.

It tabled a $771,000,000 war agencies supply measure into which the Senate had inserted $250,000 for FEPC operation in the current fiscal year after earlier House action refusing to recognize that agency.

The rules committee declined this morning to approve procedure which would have permitted the House membership to vote on the FEPC fund provided by the Senate.

To save the funds of sixteen other home front war agencies financed in the war agencies supply measure the appropriations committee voted out a new bill, varying only in minor details from the measure originally passed by the House. It carried nothing for FEPC.

The vote rejecting the Senate bill was reported as 20 to 11, while that sending a new bill to the House floor was 21 to 12.

The rules committee rejection of the $200,000 compromise fund was reported to be five to five.

Delegation of Negroes

The committee acted after a delegation of approximately twenty negroes from New York sought a hearing in support of the FEPC, created by the Late President Roosevelt to prevent employment discrimination because of race, creed or color.

Charles Collins, head of the delegation, asked to be heard and declined at first to leave the com-

American Women Declared Being Used As Pilots

LONDON, July 2—(AP)—The Tokyo radio said today three American aircraft piloted by women had been shot down over Kweilin, China.

"Thus it is assumed that a shortage of American air crews, is so acute that women are now being employed on operational duties," said the broadcast.

The planes were flown by American girls dressed "in smart outfits which may have been designed by Walt Disney because they were so natty," said a Tokyo broadcast heard in San Francisco by the Federal Communications Commission.

Tokyo declared this "amazing fact" came to light when women pilots raided Kweilin last Saturday.

"Since they were women," the report concluded, "their aerial technique was inferior and they immednately fell prey to Japanese flak."

PRESIDENT URGES QUICK RATIFICATION UNITED NATIONS PACT

TRUMAN SAYS CHARTER POINTS DOWN ONLY ROAD TO AN ENDURING PEACE

By TOM REEDY

WASHINGTON, July 2—(AP)—President Truman formally presented to a grave, attentive United States Senate today the United Nations charter of San Francisco and pleaded for prompt ratification.

The President arrived in the Senate at 12:03 p. m. (CWT), delivered the charter and in a brief, pointed speech reminded the lawmakers that the whole world is watching for our action."

The President was accompanied on the short drive from the White House to the capitol by his secretaries, war mobilization director Fred M. Vinson and other government officials.

Also with him was Stephen Early who served as a Presidential secretary throughout the Roosevelt administrations.

Upon his arrival at the capitol Mr Truman went directly to the President's room to the side of the Senate chamber to await his formal presentation to the Senate. He carried the United Nations charter with him.

President Was Smiling

The smiling Presdient then was escorted into the packed chamber by the leaders of both major parties in the Senate, plus the two Senators who worked diligently at San Francisco for enactment of the charter: Connally of Texas and Vanderberg of Michigan.

The compact chamber was jammed to all doors, as were the galleries, to see the history-making presentation. Looking directly down on the President from the diplomatic gallery was Lord Halifax, British Ambassador to the U. S.

Behind the rows of Senators' desks were 100 temporary chairs filled with members of the House.

Spoke Easily

The President spoke easily and informally. As the addressed Senator McKellar (D-Tenn), President pro tempore of the Senate, he smiled and said wistfully: a

"Mr. President—it has been a long time since I said that in this chamber."

Then, a moment later, he interpolated in his speech:

"You remember I was tied down the last three months I was here (as vice president). Two or three times I was ruled out of order when I tried to make a speech from the chair."

Mr. Truman began his brief speech at 12:05 p. m., after shaking hands with McKellar and acknowledging the bursts of applause

UNITED NATIONS ALL EXPECTED TO RATIFY PEACE PACT QUICKLY

GOVERNMENT LEADERS FROM RUSSIA TO PERU HEAD FOR APPROVAL

LONDON, July 2—(AP)—Quick ratification of the San Francisco peace charter appeared certain today in the capitals of virtually all the United Nations.

From Russia to Peru, government leaders are setting in motion machinery for formal approval, and it is possible that every nation will have acted by late fall.

The treaty designed to safeguard the world against aggression might attain unanimous ratification even earlier but for the necessary preliminary in some nations of reinstituting legislative bodies which were strangled during German occupation.

All capitals expressed interest in the drive for quick indorsement in the United States Senate, but no government spokesman suggested that his government might wait to see what the United States would do.

Associated Press correspondent Eddy Gilmore in Moscow reported that "what the United States does or what is said in debate there certainly is not likely to affect Russia's stand one iota." He added that the Soviet Union "undoubtedly will be one of the first nations to approve the charter."

Britain's Action

The only delay in Britain's formal acceptance probably will be the interlude before the new Parliament convenes Aug. 1. The British cabinet's approval of treaties is announced formally in Commons.

Even quicker action was probable in France, where an offical spokesman said Gen. De Gaulle's government could ratify the pact merely through publication in the official journal after approval by the cabinet, with no action by the consultative assembly needed.

In Chungking, China's ratification was expected shortly and

WAR SURGERY

Next to shooting-power in this war, by air, sea and land, perhaps the most important development is surgery. There is immense progress in this field, most of it credited to Americans. The part that attracts most attention, and probably deserves it, is plastic surgery.

Our surgeons, busy by thousands on the war fronts and in the hospitals to which wounded men are so rapidly transferred, are miracle workers in this field. A newspaper man who has watched the handling of stricken men says: "Every one of us with sons in the service should give thanks morning, noon and night for the progress in plastic surgery, which will give us back our boys in almost normal condition, despite the gravity of facial and extremity wounds and burns."

Within a day of the wounding, he observes, jaws, noses and eyelids are made by the plastic surgeons and placed where they belong. Rolls of skin are removed from chests and planted elsewhere. Of course it is painful, and many of the operations, specially the facial ones, take long to heal. But the men take it all with patient courage, and "there isn't a weak sister in the bunch."

PRICE OF INDEPENDENCE

The average youngster usually thinks of independence and irresponsibility as one and the same thing. He dreams of being a vagabond with no home chores to do and no music lessons to practice. That, he feels, would be freedom.

Not so, reasons the famous novelist, C. S. Forester, who shows his hero, Commodore Hornblower, thinking, "Irresponsibility was something which, in the very nature of things, could not co-exist with independence."

The commodore, portrayed as a great victor over the forces of Napoleon, has figured out that he can't have his cake and eat it, too. If he wants to be commander of a squadron, and enjoy the independence of action that goes with power, then he will have to go on accepting the responsibilities which accompany his freedom.

Reading adventures as fascinating as those of Hornblower is one way in which imaginative youngsters gain a bit of wisdom along with entertainment.

CHILDREN AND GUNS

Another "didn't know it was loaded" story appears in the newspapers. A 15-year-old, who thought he could hold the hammer of a rifle, cocked the gun and carelessly pointed it at his 12-year-old chum, with fatal consequences.

On the other hand, a father in a small Pennsylvania town is reported to have whipped his teen-age son for shooting a shot-gun into a brushpile, "just for fun." The father reasoned that a boy who took the use of his deadly weapon so lightly that he shot for no purpose, without any object or target, should be taught a lesson.

And rightly so. Parents should begin early to teach their children that there is no such thing as "playing" with firearms. Competence in handling weapons is a matter of serious business. The boy who is taught that lesson early, and never permitted to forget it, is the only one to be trusted with a gun.

If the parents don't know anything about such things, they shouldn't put firearms into the hands of growing youngsters without instruction from someone who does know.

VICE PRESIDENTS

Discussion of the line of succession to the presidency, which always arises when a Vice President takes over the job of Chief Executive, has risen higher with the announcement of the imminence of another Big Three meeting outside the United States.

Under present circumstances, the only legal successors in case of emergency are members of the Cabinet, who are not elected representative of the people but personal appointees of the President. Many citizens, President Truman himself among them, feel that this is not the best solution. He has suggested that a more equitable method might name the Speaker of the House of Representatives, followed by the President pro tem of the Senate, both of whom are first elected by their constituents to their respective congressional seats, and then chosen by colleagues for their present posts of responsibility.

This would appear to be a logical system, and deserves consideration.

MISGUIDED LOYALTIES

The fiery leader of a midwest foreign group complained that his city's schools have hired no teachers of his racial origin recently. He seems to think that in choosing a teacher the first question should be "What is your nationality?" and the individual hired or not according to the proportion of his or her racial group on the teaching staff as a whole. Better, he feels, to hire a poor teacher of the approved stock than a good one of another.

Such a notion needs only to be stated to be condemned. Probably this advocate of nationalism did not think his idea out that far. He was merely appealing to prejudice in the course of some political ax-griding.

Yet there are more folks like him than are commonly supposed. Some people oppose teachers or public officials merely because they have come from out of town, or belong to different political parties, even though the job has nothing to do with political differences.

All these notions err in putting some other loyalty ahead of the common good. A teacher should be chosen for superior teaching ability. No other consideration should have weight against that one.

THE GOOD OLD DAYS

"In the good old days," my grandsire said,
"In the good old days by lamps we read
And by ten o'clock we were all in bed."

"In the good old days," my father told,
"We didn't race through life—we strolled,
And sat by stoves when the nights were cold."

In the good old days, which I oft review,
We had telephones and autos, too,
And I think more fun than our youngsters do.

When silver comes to the youthful brow,
They'll learn what only the years allow,
They are living their good old days, right now.

Leland Dupree of Lancaster, vice president of the Republic National Bank of Dallas, and Sherman C. Reed, Dallas, deputy grand master of the Grand Lodge of Texas, IOOF, were the principal speakers at the regular meeting of Corsicana Lodge No. 63, IOOF, Thursday evening. The Farmers Branch degree team, Southwest champions, conferred the first degree on a couple of candidates. The Ladies' Auxiliary (Canton) served refreshments following the program.

Lodges Represented.

Lodges represented included Dallas, Ennis, Waxahachie, Farmers Branch, Waco, Lancaster and Missouri Valley, Iowa.

The visitors were welcomed by Major John C. Calhoun of Corsicana, a long-time member of the Order, and others speaking included M. E. Howell, superintendent of the IOOF Home; Nobie Grand H. L. Hayes, J. W. Higginbotham, Claude Richey, Farmers Branch, and others.

The deputy grand master pointed out that the "core of Odd Fellowship" is located in Corsicana (the Orphans Home), and praised the degree team, the work of Corsicana Odd Fellows, and reported that the Order was in the best financial condition in its history.

Dallas Banker.

In the beginning of his remarks after being presented by the deputy grand master, Mr. Dupree, who in addition to being an active vice president of the big Dallas bank, is a member of the finance committee of the Grand Lodge, asserted that our hats should be off to the past and "our coats off to the future" in working for the Order and leaving a going concern to the next generation.

After praising the degree team from Farmers Branch as an example in the spreading and helping the IOOF, he praised Corsicana Lodge No. 63 for its work and the large crowd present, filling the Lodge room. The welcome and friendliness of the local lodge was stressed.

Urges Definite Goal.

Urging a definite goal and "getting on our way in attaining it," the finance committee member spoke of co-operation and teamwork applied to carry any goal to completion and success. Mr. Dupree pointed out that returning soldiers should be brought into the Order and be made a part in building it to greater success.

"People in this day of trouble and strife need and appreciate helping hands," he stated, and spoke of Odd Fellows doing things for members and their families when it is needed, and recalled Odd Fellows working out a weedy crop for a brother's family. Dupree expressed the hope that Odd Fellowship will become the largest order in Texas.

AUDITORIUM WILL BE BUILT HONORING NAVARRO WAR DEAD

Navarro county's dead in World War II may be memorialized by the erection of a countywide Auditorium, dedicated to their memory, J. Floyd Smith, commander of the local American Legion Post, told directors of the Lions Club at a meeting Thursday night at the home of Gabe Goldberg, president.

"Some work has been done in this connection," Smith explained, "and this will be a countywide project when the proper time for action comes."

DECORATIONS AND PROMOTIONS FOR CORSICANA MEN SERVING IN ARMED FORCES OVER WORLD

From the formerly hostile terrain of Germany to a peaceful "recreation island" on a tiny atoll in the Pacific came news today of the brave fighting men of Corsicana and Navarro county.

Men of all branches of the service, ranging in rank from private to lieutenant colonel, these gallant soldiers and sailors have seen combat in the Mediterranean, the European Theatre and over the vast stretches of the Pacific.

Awarded Silver Star.

To Tech. Sgt. Louis Garcia, Jr., son of Mrs. Callie Garcia of this city, went the highest honor—the Silver Star.

Sergeant Garcia, with the First United States Infantry division in Germany, won the award for "reconnoitering a perilous route for his squad and then leading them across without a casualty."

Citation.

The entire citation read: "When his platoon's route of approach to a friendly unit was taken under an intense enemy artillery, machine-gun and small arms barrage, Sergeant Garcia, with utter disregard for personal safty, fearlessly advanced and reconnoitered the hostile terrain. He then returned and skillfully guided his men along a covered route, thereby attaining the objective without casualty. Sergeant Garcia's gallant actions and outstanding leadership exemplify the finest traditions of the service."

Presented Croix de Guerre.

And to another Corsicana man by adoption, Lt. Col. Cletus Wray, the French government has presented the Croix de Guerre with Star. Colonel Wray's wife, Mrs. Cletus Wray, lives in Corsicana, and his mother, Mrs. Henry Wray, lives in Tiptonville, Tenn.

Commander of a B-26 Marauder squadron, Colonel Wray was given the medal "for exceptional services of war rendered in the course of operations for the liberation of France." In addition he holds the distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal with six bronze Oak Leaf clusters.

Promotions.

Promotion news was the big news from the 36th Division, Seventh Army, Germany. Hard-won new ranks went to Staff Sgt. George O. Scott, son of Mrs. Bertha Scott of Corsicana, stepped up from Technician, fifth grade; Technician, fifth grade, William R. Flynn, son of Robert S. Flynn, route 3, from private, first class; Technician, fifth grade, Vernon E. Denbow son of Mrs. Lena F. Denbow, son of Mrs. Lena F. Denbow of Corsicana, from private, first class; Technician, fifth grade, Lee O. Lambert son of Mrs. Willie E. Lambert, 705 South 15th street, Corsicana, from private, first class; Technician, fourth grade, James W. Denny, son of J. W. Denny, 414 North Twenty-First street, Corsicana, from corporal.

Recreation Island.

After cruising around the Pacific on an aircraft carrier for several weeks, five Corsicana men recently went ashore on one of the Navy's "recreation islands" for a three-hour rest period. The recreation spots have been set up on tiny atolls to give Navy men a few hours of relaxation between battles.

Recreation and refreshment included cans of beer and soft drinks, a ball game, horseshoe-pitching, boxing, swimming and sun bathing. The sailors also had a chance to mingle with crewmen of other ships in the area, swapping sea stories and talking about mutual acquaintances and relatives.

In The Navy.

Corsicana men on solid ground for a few hours were Joe R. Rehders, Jr., fireman, first class, 753 West Ninth avenue; William T. Thompson, seaman, second class, 1107 West Thirteenth avenue; Les. J. Richards, seaman, second class, 420 West First avenue; Jack Dale Wilson, seaman, second class, route 3, and Harrel Gray, seaman first class, route 1.

Back on the other side of the world, Staff Sgt. Harvey C. Smithen, Jr., 24, of 1651 1-2 West Second Avenue, Corsicana, is a member of the 17th Bombardment Group at Dijon, France, which recently was cited for the second time by the War Department as a Distinguished Unit.

Oldest medium bomber group in the AAF, the 17th was cited for action against the enemy in the ETC on April 10 in aerial cooperation with the U. S. Seventh army advance through southern Germany.

Air Medal Award.

An airplane armorer with the group, Sergeant Smithen has been overseas 32 months. He has been awarded the Air Medal and the Good Conduct Medal, and has been authorized to wear the Distinguished Unit Badge, with Cluster, and the European Theatre Ribbon with four stars.

Not so far away from Dijon, in Leghorn, Italy, Tech. Sgt. Carmen D. Roxburgh, 1719 North Beaton street, is now serving with the 220th Quartermaster Salvage Repair Company, one of the outstanding operating units in the 61st Quartermaster Base Depot. For notable achievement and superior performance of duty, his company recently was awarded the Meritorious Service Unit Plaque.

Mediterranean Theatre.

The Depot is an important part of the Peninsula Base Section, service and supply organization for the victorious Fifth army and ground forces of the U. S. Air Corps and Navy in the Mediterranean Theatre of Operations.

From Corsicana to the Riviera, where royalty once played, was not too big a hop for WAC Cpl. Jessie T. Wells of this city. She was among a group of 180 WACs which went on furlough to southern France's famed rest haven recently.

Two big hotels that formerly catered to the idle rich, with extensive gardens, sunbathing enclosures and tennis courts, have been set aside for the khaki-clad girls. For most of them, the seven days' rest is the first leave they have had since going overseas.

Merchant Marine.

These old experienced hands are being joined on land and sea, and in the air by this year's high school graduates, and others answering the call to arms.

One who has just volunteered for the Merchant Marines is Lawrence Elmer Barlow, who will leave Monday for the U. S. Maritime Service Training Station at Sheepshead Bay, New York.

Plan To Divorce County War Chest, Community Chest

Plans for divorcing the Corsicana Community Chest from the Navarro County War Chest were made at a meeting of the board of directors of the former organization Friday morning in the Chamber of Commerce offices, with Ralph Brown presiding.

Wayland Towner, general manager of the United War Chest of Texas, will be asked to appoint a general chairman of Navarro County's War Chest drive. This chirman, in turn, will name chairmen and co-chairmen in every town and community in the county, Corsicana included.

At the same time that the local War Chest quota is being raised in Corsicana, the Community Chest funds will be sought, but only in this city.

War Chest Quota

Navarro county has been asked to assume the same quota in the 1945-46 War Chest drive that it had in 1944-45, Brown announced. A total of $46,071.32, subscribed last year, was a bit short of the county goal.

E. C. Mueller, secretary, was selected to attend a meeting of the Texas War Chest in Austin on July 6. Plans and program for the coming year will be discussed, and Mueller will bring this information back to the Navarro county leaders.

Nominating Committee

Brown appointed a nominating committee of Mrs. W. H. Hastings, chairman; Ed M. Polk, Jr., and J. M. Dyer, Jr., to name new Community Chest officers for the coming year. The committee will make its report at an annual meeting of the Chest membership Monday, July 16, in the Chamber of Commerce offices. A financial report also will be made at that time.

Year-round Recreation

Mrs. L. A. Wortham suggested that the Community Chest consider sponsorship of a year-round recreation program in Corsicana. Brown said that financial assistance for such an undertaking could be made by the Chest only upon recommendation of the budget committee. He explained that representatives of a recreation organization would have to appear before the committee and ask for recognition when the next Community Chest budget is planned.

COMBINE SECURED SCS HARVEST GRASS AND LEGUME SEED

A new 5-foot modern combine with all attachments, including the popular "pick up" attachment has been secured by the Soil Conservation Service for the use of Navarro-Hill Soil Conservation District co-operators in harvesting grass and legume seed, according to an announcement by C. O. Ferguson, work-unit conservationist of the local SCS work-unit office.

This machine, loaned to the Navarro-Hill Soil Conservation District, is rented to district co-operators by the hour at a nominal cost, Ferguson said. Use of the combine is expected to provide a local source of certain hard to get grass and legume seed, including clovers and hairy vetch. Supplies of these seed were formerly sent from Washington and Oregon, but due to their use in reclaiming devastated lands of European countries, critical shortages have appeared in this country.

Good Harvest Expected.

Prospects are for bountiful seed harvests in Navarro and Hill counties. Ferguson said, reporting that local vetch harvesting was averaging from 100 to 300 pounds of seed an acre. Sour clover, while not produced extensively here, is averaging as much as 1000 pounds of seed per acre where harvested, he said.

Grass and legume seed harvested by the local district co-operators will be marketed by them privately, thus increasing the quantity of seed available for local planting.

W. C. Pearce, Corsicana, is the member of the district board of supervisors in direct charge of arranging schedule for use of the combine.

MINISTER, WESTSIDE CHURCH OF CHRIST

Dr. Peter Marshall, pastor of the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church, Washington, D. C., said in a recent speech, "A nation obedient to the laws of God would lead the world...But America cannot follw God's plan until we —you and I—as individual follow it."

The doctor is exactly right. We need not say that obedience is not important, for we are told what will happen to the disobedient. Paul says in 2 Thessalonians 1:7-9 that Jesus will come "taking vengeance on them that know not God, and that obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ: who shall be punished with everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord, and from the glory of his power."

When people believe in Christ, repent of their sins, and are baptized, they become children of God because they have obeyed. God has given these commands. When people in faith comply with these commands, they are obedient. God's blessings rest upon the obedient, not upon the disobedient.

No man is really interested in your soul if he would have you believe that you can receive the supernal joys of heaven without obeying God's law.

Not Too Early Make Fall Garden Plans

Gardening in Texas and Navarro county being possibly pretty nearly the year 'round, Vera Sneed, county home demonstration agent says that it is not too early to plan for the fall garden, in fact it is a good rule to prepare the ground and make the next planting as soon as the summer garden finishes yielding.

Recently, President Harry S. Truman said that "in this fourth year of war the need for every ounce of food which the American people can produce and preserve is greater than ever."

Planting a fall garden, Miss Sneed says, might offset the shortage caused by bad weather last spring at which time drought and high winds curtailed gardening, and excessive rainfall had a similar effect.

For a garden which will produce good vegetables, a deep, rich sandy or sandy loam soil which crumbles easily is preferred. It should have a top soil of ten to twelve inches, and a well-drained, porous clay subsoil. Choose a place which has enough slope for surface water drainage and sufficient air drainage to prevent possible pocketing of air. If possible, the soil should be broken to a depth of eight to ten inches. But if subsoil is near the surface do not turn under more than one inch of it per season. In general Miss Sneed adds, flat culture is preferable to growing crops on raised beds or ridges. For one thing it requires less work. Soils, however, should not be worked when too wet. This results in a poor condition of the land and, in general, a poor garden.

Commercial fertilizers for vegetable production in light sand or sandy loam soils are advisable if barnyard fertilizers cannot be obtained. On small plots, commercial fertilizers may be sown broadcast in advance of perparing the rows and thoroughly raked or harrowed into the upper three or four inches of soil. When placed in drills beneath the rows they should be well mixed with the soil. Apply three to six pounds per hundred row feet. It is best, however, to place the fertilizer about two inches to one side and slightly below where the seeds are to be planted.

COMPOST PILE FOR GARDEN IN SPRING SHOULD BE STARTED

Making and using compost—Right now weeds, lawn clippings and other vegetative growth around the house is plentiful. Why not cut and utilize this material by making a compost pile for use in the garden next spring? Suggests Vera Sneed, county home demonstration agent.

Compost is a decayed mixture of soil and plant or animal matter. The organic matter may be in the form of barnyard fertilizer, weeds, lawn clippings, crop residue or similar materials.

Compost is made by first piling soil and manure or other organic materials in alternate layers in a pile usually with a flat top and vertical sides in such a fashion that the organic matter will rot down without leaching. Layers of soil 2 to 3 inches thick should alternate with layers of organic materials twice as thick. If no manure is used, that is high in nitrogen, a few handsful of complete commercial fertilizer, high in nitrogen, should be used to each layer to hasten decay. The compost pile should be kept moist at all times.

Every three to four months the compost heap should be completely stirred or turned. Usually 12 months time or less is sufficient to make excellent compost.

Compost varies greatly in chemical and physical properties, depending largely upon the materials of which it is made and the degree of decomposition and mixing. Usually it should not be considered as a satisfactory garden fertilizer alone. Its greatest values are in improving the physical condition of the garden soil, growing seedlings for transplanting and for mulching.

Miss Sneed says of compost is well rotted, it may be applied and mixed with the soil only a few weeks prior to planting. Fall application would be best if poorly decomposed. The amount to use per given unit varies greatly depending on the condition of the soil, what is to be grown and many other factors. The average gardener is not likely to use too much.

Information From Navarro County Rationing Board

A grocer consumer anti-inflation campaign will be culminated with the regular grocery survey, July 2-16, according to W. A. Wright, chairman of the war price and rationing board.

The survey will be made of canned, glassed and packaged goods; fresh fruits and vegetables; soaps and cleansers; butter and poultry, and meat.

In addition, price panel assistants will be instructed to check the following: OPA store group posters, community ceiling price posters, meat price lists, fresh fruit and vegetable price lists, poultry price lists, soap price lists, and ration point charts.

"Grocers who do not have these lists and posters are urged to contact the board before July 2, so that they will not be in violation of regulations," Wright said.

Rationing restrictions on the transfer of used 1942 cars have now been removed, according to W. A. Wright, chairman of the War Price and Rationing Board.

"However," Wright states, "automobile dealers and automobile rental agencies must continue to keep the records they have previously been required to maintain for all 1942 cars."

This change in regulations has been adopted because 1942 used cars have become less and less distinguishable as an effective means of transportation from used cars of other model years. Many 1942 cars have been used by essential persons, such as public officials, doctors and war workers in high mileage occupations. Consequently, they have had hard usage and are often less desirable than older model cars which have gone fewer miles and have been driven more carefully, Wright points out.

"Even where 1942 cars have not been used hard, the more passage of time has so reduced their utility that there no longer is any basis for assuming that they are a better means of transportation than used cars of earlier years," Wright says.

A drug survey will be conducted in Navarro county from July 17 to July 23 by the war price and rationing board, according to W. A. Wright, chairman of the board.

The survey will be made on maximum price regulations 392 and 393. WMP 392 establishes the ceiling on Packaged drugs and FPR 393 sets the ceiling on sales of packaged cosmetics.

Grocers who failed to receive July point value charts are asked to contact the board at once. The chart gives general information about meat, fats, fish, dairy products, processed foods.

New stove purchase certificates being issued by rationing boards will replace previously issued certificates being taken out of circulation both for consumer and trade use later this summer, OPA has announced.

FATHER RECEIVES WATCH FROM SON NOW IN GERMANY

R. M. Drain, of the Black Hills community, was at the courthouse Friday carrying a sturdy silver watch sent from overseas by his son, Sgt. Aubrey Drain.

Sgt. Drain, U. S. Army infantryman, wounded in the battle of the Belgium Bulge last December, has now recovered from his wounds and has been placed on Military Police duty in England. He wrote his father that he was sending him a watch which he had "picked up" in Germany. The timepiece, in a well-worn silver case, is minus a second hand and bears the trademark "Regulateur" on its face. The mechanism is encased in glass and it keeps perfect time, Drain says.

Drain has four other sons in the service, Ardis Drain, seaman first class, U. S. Navy, who is now a crew member of a destroyer serving in the Pacific; Cpl. R. M. Drain, Jr., somewhere in the Pacific; Pfc. Elmer Lee Drain, with the U. S. Army in Germany; and Calvin Drain, seaman first class, U. S. Navy, aboard a minesweeper in the Pacific area.

Correct Insanitary Conditions in County

Corrections of insanitary conditions found in Navarro County's recent cleanup campaign are being made as quickly as possible, according to W. A. Lamb, county sanitarian.

During the absence of Miss Loreta Gaillard, city sanitarian, Lamb is making professional inspections in the city, street by street, of conditions reported in the surveys.

"Some survey sheets still have not been turned in," states Mrs. Marion McAdams, "and we must have these before corrections can be made. Again, we urge workers to turn in these as soon as possible."

Town Creek, always a sore spot in local health conditions, is being cleaned up by prisoners of war obtained by the health department and employed by the city. They will be used about a month in cleanup work.

Dr. Will Miller, acting director of Corsicana-Navarro Health Department, says that no new cases of polio have been reported.

Midshipman and Mrs. Joe Terry of Dallas spent the week end in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Terry.

Local Directors Authorize Loan Extend REA Lines

Directors of the Navarro County Electric Co-Operative, Inc. Friday night authorized the securing of a $125,000 loan for the purpose of constructing 123 miles of additional rural electric lines, according to a statement Saturday by Beauford H. Jester, attorney for the co-operative since its organization, Dec. 1, 1937.

The new lines to be constructed include 75 miles within Navarro county and the remaining 48 miles will be in Hill, Ellis, Limestone and Freestone counties.

The loan for the extension of the lines will come from the Rural Electric Administration, a U. S. governmental agency.

Operates 740 Miles

The co-operative, according to Jester, has borrowed a total of $825,500 from which 740 miles of rural lines are now in operation. The co-operative has the authority to borrow as much as two million dollars and to ultimately operate 2,500 miles of lines.

In discussing further operations of the rural electric co-operative here, Jester said that the principal and interest payments are being met prompetly. Each note to the REA is paid out over a period of 20 years with two per cent interest per annum.

Items Of Interest To Housewives

THE BAN on two-tone shoes, fancy stitching, and other shoe decoration has been lifted, with the result that this type of footwear, restricted as a luxury item since September, 1942, is destined to be more plentiful from now on.

HOUSEWIVES are reminded again that the tin drive is still on and still urgent. Detinning plants are operating at only 50 per cent capacity. So don't relax just because the war is over in Europe. Save your tin cans, flatten them and turn them in to your local salvage committee.

DURING the sugar shortage, try using other sweetening in cooking. Molasses, sorghum, corn syrup, maple sugar and honey are suggested. These are available in most parts of the country.

FATS ARE becoming more and more scarce. Save all drippings for re-use. Turn in what you can't use. Your butcher will give you two red points a pound for it. Margarine has almost the same feed value as butter, and it costs less in points and pennies.

A WARNING from the Office of Defense Transportation: Don't rush to ports of debarkation to meet returning troops. Your time and effort may be wasted. Soldiers arriving from Europe along the Eastern Seaboard are being moved on to personnel centers all over the country about 24 hours after arrival. The men will not be granted leave during that time, nor will relatives be permitted to visit them.

JUDGE DISCUSSES RESPONSIBILITIES NEGRO CITIZENS

JULY TERM GRAND JURY STARTED INVESTIGATIONS MONDAY MORNING

Use of common sense in investigations and the returning of indictments by the grand jury was urged by A. P. Mays, district judge, in his charge to the July term grand jury Monday morning. He also discussed added responsibilities on the negroes and expressed the hope that they will live up to their responsibilities after referring to one member of the grand jury being from that race.

Indictments.

Judge Mays suggested that indictments not be returned unless the probers were reasonably sure a conviction could be had and also expressed the conviction all indictments should be prosecuted, explaining that the certainty of prosecution was a deterrent to crime. He said that the grand jurors hear only one side of most matters presented before that body.

The court said that only once before had a negro been on a grand jury as far as he (the court) knows. He pointed out the increasing responsibilities placed on the shoulders of negro citizens under present times and trends, and voiced the hope that these citizens can live up to those added responsibilities of citizenship in the United States.

Asks Co-operation.

Referring to the Constitution of the United States prohibiting discrimination against any citizen regardless of race, religion or previous condition of servitude, Judge Mays referred to decisions of the supreme court of this nation holding that negroes cannot be punished for any crime if it is true that state courts discriminate against the negro on grand or petit jury lists. He said that he hoped for the earnest co-operation of those citizens.

Stating that he believed the people of the South knew better how to handle the situation, he said:

"No one loves a good negro better than I—one who knows his place in society—or has less respect for one not knowing his place, sometimes referred to as 'modern negro.'"

Judge Mays called the investigators' attention to "bowdy houses" and gambling houses.

BORNEO

a month-long aerial softening-up observation fired back sporadically at some of the more than 300 invasion ships, but their defense was ineffective.

American underwater demolition swimmers went in six days before D-Day and worked neck-deep in the surf, removing fixed obstacles while planes guarded them from Japanese gunfire.

As a result, the Australians drove smoothly ashore at 8:55 a. m., quickly seizer mile-long stretch of beach, and raced inland against small-arms, mortar and artillery fire which was scattered but accurate.

MacArthur himself went ashore four hours later and climbed to a ridge for a view of the inferno of smashed oil installations.

Settled Score.

"I think today we settled the score of that Makassar Straits affair of three and a half years ago," he commented, referring to the bold but vain effort of four old four-stack American destroyers in January, 1942, to stop the Japanese convoys heading south for the invasion of Java.

In a communique announcing the successful counter-invasion, MacArthur said today that the strategic straits now were "controlled by our surface craft as well as by air and submarine" and that "our shipping can now sail with land-based air cover to any point in the Southwest Pacific."

"Swiftly following our seizure of Brunei Bay on the northwestern coast and Tarakan on the northeastern, the enemy's key Borneo defenses are now isolated or crushed," MacArthur said, "and his confused and disorganized forces are incapable of effective strategic action."

Australian Ninth Division troops invaded Tarakan May 1 and Brunei Bay June 10.

MacArthur's Come-Back

MELBOURNE, July 2—(AP)—During MacArthur's long sweep back toward Japan, amphibious forces under his command have put ashore 1,076 00 men in a total of 53 large and small landings, one naval commander informed Melbourne Herald correspondent Tim Keane at a briefing on Sunday's Balikpapan invasion.

PACIFIC WAR

paid off with light initial losses for the tank-led Seventh Australian division. Air forces rained 3,500 tons of explosives on the area in a month, mine-sweepers spent 15 days clearing a channel to the invasion beach, and swimmers worked six days clearing out underwater obstacles.

The landing was immediately north of Balikpapan, greatest oil center in the Dutch East Indies. Tokyo said another landing was made 31 miles farther north.

Attempt Invade East China.

Another unconfirmed enemy report said "about 100 American-directed Chinese junks" unsuccessfully attempted to invade the East China port of Amoy last Wednesday. Amoy is west of Formosa, not quite midway between the Chinese-held Wenchow coastal sector and the south coast island of Weichow seized by Chinese late last week.

Japanese admitted roaring fires were started by today's early morning B-29 fire raid. Waves of Superforts, which Tokyo said were over Japan for five yours, rained 4,000 tons of incendiaries on:

Kure, largest naval base and shipyard on the Inland Sea; Ube, major coal center and Nippon's greatest magnesium producing center; Shimonoseki, rail bottleneck at the Western entrance to the Inland Sea; and Kumamoto, industrial city on Western Kyushu island.

Waterfront Ablaze.

Returning airmen said the entire Ube waterfront was aflame. Clouds obscured results in other areas, but Tokyo said great fires raged from five to seven hours in Kure, Shimonoseki and the neighboring industrial city of Moji which was not listed as a target. Some damage to Kure naval facilities, an unusual Japanese admission, was conceded.

Other Superforts were reported busy on mine-laying missions. Allied commanders announced that smaller bombers and fighters sank seven Japanese ships, damaged 19, raked four homeland air bases, crippled the Makao naval base off the China coast, and blew up an oil refinery on Formosa.

Chinese troops reported they had penetrated Indo-China, capturing three towns, one of which was promptly lost to a Nipponese counterattack.

Mopping Up Philippines.

Only mop-up operations were reported from the Philippines and Okinawa. But in the Philippines Japanese losses mounted to 419,035, including 9,774 prisoners, some of whom predicted Japan would surrender next month.

By contrast American losses in the Philippine campaign were placed at 11,715 killed and 1,131 missing.

Perhaps the most unusual group surrenders of the war were reported from four Japanese-held Marshall islands. Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced that 318 surrendering Nipponese were taken off Wotje, Maloelap, Mille and Jaluit atolls by U. S. ships while removing 1,500 natives.

Conquest of Okinawa was described by Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, new commander of the U. S. Tenth army, as further proof "that the Jap has no chance against Americans."

Three Armies Freed.

Aside from mopping up operations, three American armies—the Sixth, Eighth and Tenth—have been freed for further conquests by the official end of the Okinawan and Philippine campaigns. "Mopping up" is an expression for more fighting—Japanese have lost 16,000 men on Okinawa since that campaign formally ended—and it goes on for months. Fifty-three thousand Japanese are still putting up a fight in Burma where British and Indian forces have been "mopping up" for months.

The Typhoon season, just beginning, would hamper any major allied operation in the West Pacific during the next three months. By that time allied forces should begin arriving at Pacific staging bases in strength from the European theatre. Added to them will be 390,000 naval officers and men in training in the Atlantic for Pacific action.

The navy announced the submarine Kete was lost with her compliment of about 80 men, 11 months after she was commissioned.

Dallas Dinner Pays Tribute To Texas Author

To celebrate the publication of the 100,000th copy of Alyene Porter's outstandingly successful "Papa Was a Preacher," Abingdon-Cokesbury Press of New York and Nashville honored the Dallas author with a dinner last Tuesday evening.

Pat Beaird of New York, director of the Press, presented the 100,000th copy to Miss Porter before a gathering of her friends and southwestern booksellers.

Also present were the brothers and a sister of Miss Porter, all of whom were charecters in her book. All the family signed the specially bound presentation copy, and it was given to the Rev. R. E. Porter, veteran North Texas preacher, who is "Papa" of the story. J. F. Albright was master of ceremonies, and introduced the speakers.

Included in the dinner personnel was Mrs. Chas. Rankin of Corsicana, a personal friend of the honoree during her residence in Corsicana and her connection with the First Methodist Church of this city.

CHARTER

and a few "wahoo" yells that greeted his entry

No Broadcasts

Unlike many other appearances of Presidents, this time there were no microphones, no broadcasts and no photographs.

On several occasions during the course of his address, the President brought out bursts of laughter from the assemblage because of asides interpolated in his prepared remarks.

He read one passage from his text exrpecisng confidence Senate discusions of the charter would be "thorough." When he added "I am sure of that,' the chamber broke out in loud chuckles.

At another point the President spoke of disagreements at the San Francisco conference getting greater emphasis in news reports than many points on which all nations had been in complete agreement.

How to Get Headlines

"You know,' the President said departing again from his prepared text, "if you want to get a headline you always must fall out with some of your friends. You have to, to get one."

In his text the President asked the Senate for prompt charter ratification so the nation could strive for enduring peace "with firm resolve that we can and will reach our goal." To this, on delivery he added the words "with God's help."

The packed chamber became completely quiet as Mr. Truman recited the charter objectives at the end of his brief address. The President, at this point, spoke slowly and with emphasis on every word until his final entreaty "I urge prompt ratification" unleashed thunderous applause.

Mr. Truman reamained in the capitol to have lunch with former Senate colleagues in the office of Senate secretary Leslie Biffle.

Choice Is Clear

"The choice before the senate is now clear," said the chief executive in a brief speech.

"The choice is not between this charter and something else. It is between this charter and no charter at all."

The senate must ratify the United Nations charter for world security to assure this nation's participation.

The president went to the capital less than 24 hours after his return from San Francisco where he addressed the closing session of the United Nations conference which drafted the blueprint for a lasting peace.

"This charter points down the only road to enduring peace," the president said. "There is no other. Let us not hesitate to join hands with the peace-loving peoples of the earth and start down that road—with firm resolve that we can and will reach our goal."

Reviews Background.

Mr. Truman reviewed the congressional background favoring an international peace organization—the Connally lasting peace resolution and the Fulbright resolution of the house, which were adopted more than a year ago—and told the senate the peoples of the earth will 'watch our action here with great concern and high hope."

"For they looked to this body of elected representatives of the people of the United States to take the lead in approving the charter and statute and pointing the way for the rest of the world." he said.

The president made no attempt to go into the details of the charter, telling his former colleagues he was sure they are familiar with its proposed workings and that they will be thoroughly discussed in senate debate.

Comes From Experience.

Declaring the charter the product of many hands and influences, Mr. Truman said it comes from the "reality of experience in a world where one generation has failed twice to keep the peace. The lessons of that experience have been written into the document."

He urged the senate, in its deliberations, to consider not only the words but the spirit of the document. Its objectives he said, are clear:

"It seeks to prevent future wars

"It seeks to settle international disputes by peaceful means and in conformity with principles of justice.

"It seeks to promote worldwide progress and better standards of living.

"It seeks to achieve universal respect for and observance of human rights and fundamental freedoms for all men and women—without distinction as to race, language or religion.

"It seeks to remove the economic and social causes of international conflict and unrest x x x.

Urges Ratification.

"I urge ratification. I urge prompt ratification."

The president traveled a familiar path in his appearance in the senate, this time as ambassador for the nations that want freedom from war.

Here in the ornate senate chamber where he served ten years, Mr. Truman had a dramatic date with history.

The president choose to deliver personally the treaty of San Francisco, the pact of 50 United Nations to outlaw war.

The senate, eager to act on the treaty, dropped all other duties to accept the document from the chief executive at 2 p. m. (CWT) and to hear his 600-word talk in behalf of prompt ratification.

Mr. Truman returned to Washington only yesterday from a 5500 mile, eight-day aerial trip to the West Coast, climaxed by his address to the closing session of the San Francisco conference. His departure for Berlin and his first meeting with Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin is imminent.

The treaty was flown here last week and delivered to Mr. Truman yesterday afternoon by Alger Hiss, conference secretary.

None Against It.

It arrives in the senate under the best possible auspices. More than two-thirds of the senators already have lined up in its favor. And not one has come out against it.

This situation is a far cry from the air of dissension and hostility that surrounded the senate of 25 years ago when the Versailles peace treaty and the League of Nations were rejected.

Under the constitution this nation cannot participate in such a treaty unless two-thirds of the senators in attendance approve. There are 95 senators. The seat of the late Senator Scrugham of Nevada is vacant.

Sixty-five have told the Associated Press they will vote for the charter, regardless of how they might differ and perhaps even argue about details. Five more want to be known as "probably" for it. Secenteen are non-committal. Eight have not been reached for their ideas.

Flowers Will Bring Spirit Of Fourth Into Sick Room

The Fourth of July is a good time to remember shut-ins—those folks who are ill or too feeble to leave the shelter of the house on the gayest of outdoor holidays.

This year the nation's birthday is only a one-day holiday, and, with travel restrictions getting tighter every day, its celebrants are likely to play nearer home, but a kindly gesture is to bring some of the holiday spirit to those who must have their picnics within the four walls of a room.

It is best to plan the cheer-up surprise a day or two in advance, and a number of suggestions for novel ways to send flowers are made by Alyn Wayne, stylist of the Florists Telegraph Delivery Association, who points out that a red, white and blue color scheme is not hard to achieve. Delphinium does nicely for the blue, stock or snapdragons can be white, while a dozen different flowers are brilliantly red.

One such arrangement is set in a wide, shallow bowl with the blue and white spiked flowers standing fanwise in the background and the red one forming the base. Three large firecrackers—which are really party favors made of cardboard—make the whole affair seem about to explode with patriotic excitement.

Leaving the patriotic note, a flat, white bowl holds an arrangement of brightly spotted garden lilies, and in the center of the picture is a porcelain cockatoo with wings half spread, about to take flight The effect is startingly real, as though a small corner of a sun-lit garden has been brought indoors.

Shouts Defiance.

"What is this, Germany?" he shouted as he was led to the door by committee attaches and a plain-clothes officer.

Collins identified himself as President of the negro labor and victory committee and spokesman for the Hotel and Club Employes Union, Local No. 6, New York City.

In denying Collins' request for a hearing, the committee followed its normal procedure of not hearing outside witnesses. Seldom does it permit anyone except members of Congress to testify.

The FEPC's funds were added to a $771,000,000 war agencies appropriations measure by the Senate in a compromise that ended four days of controversy in that body. Before the funds can become available, however, the house must approve the senate action.

"We'll stay here all summer if necessary to provide funds for FEPC to continue," said representative Marcantonio (Am. Lab. NY), one of the more outspoken advocates of the agency originally created by President Roosevelt in an effort to prevent job discrimination because of race, creed or color.

"FEPC is dead and we intend to keep it that way," retorted representative Colmer (D-Miss), a leader of the Southern Democratic opposing the agency on the ground it would interfere with the South's own handling of its racial problems.

AIR RAIDS

with a strong wind fanning the fire.

Visual Bombing

Brig. Gen. John Davies of the Tinian-based 313th wing said his bombardiers were able to release their incendiaries visually on Ube with excellent results. Overcast forced bombardiers to use instruments over other targets, and prevented detailed observation of the success of the raids.

Other aerial blows by smaller planes harrassed the enemy from Java to Japan's inland sea, sinking or damaging 26 ships and crippling airfields and supply bases.

The B-29s in their biggest attack of the war struck before dawn at these targets—all fire bombed for the first time:

Kure—Greatest naval base and shipyard on thet Inland Sea; a city of 275,000, about 200 miles west of Osaka on the southern coast of Honshu.

Transportation Point

Shimonoseki—Vulnerable bottleneck of rail transportation at the western entrance to the Inland Sea; the city of 196,000 served as the embarkation point for troops and supplies moving to Korea and North China.

Kumamoto — Transportation, commercial and military-training center; a city of 210,000; it was one of the most important industrially in western Kyushu.

Ube—Major coal-producing center and top magnesium maker of the empire, lies 25 miles east of Shimonoseki, near southwestern tip of Honshu.

Whole Waterfront Alaze

Returning crewmen said cloud covers prevented full observation of results at all targets except Ube, which was hit by the 313th wing, based on Tinian. Pilots said the whole Ube waterfront was ablaze, with Superforts' firebomb loads well-placed within industrial areas of the city.

(Radio Tokyo acknowledged considerable damage "in a wide area" at Kure, and "some damage" to naval facilities there. Army units aided the navy in relief work.

(Fires raged for five hours today in Kure, Tokyo acknowledged in a broadcast saying fire-bombing Superforts swept over the naval base city and other areas of southern Honshu Island for five hours.

USS INGRAHAM WILL FIGHT JAPS AGAIN DESPITE BEATING

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—(AP)—A great rent gapes in her hull, 15 of her enlisted men are dead and 30 wounded, but the Destroyer USS Ingraham will split the seas again with her trim nose for another crack at the Japanese.

The 2,200-ton "tin can," now in drydock for repairs at Hunter's Point, San Francisco, survived a direct hit by a Nipponese Kamikaze plane early in May north of Okinawa and came home under her own power, the 12th naval district announced today.

Before receiving this nearly mortal wound the Ingraham had taken a heavy toll. She was instrumental in sinking three enemy vessels, and destroyed six of the seven suicide planes which chose her as their target in the flaming fury of a dawn attack by 70 to 80 Japanese aircraft of all types.,

Nicknamed the "Mighty I" by her crew, the Ingraham was operating on the edge of the East China Sea with another battle-famed destroyer, the Morrison, when she was hit.

Enemy scout planes sighted the two craft during the night. As daylight came the big Kamikaze squadron moved in for the kill, diving from all directions at the destroyers and their smaller support craft.

All Available Planes

Lt. John D. Brink, USNR, of San Diego, Calif., Ingraham gunnery officer, said the Japanese threw all available planes from modern fighters to old twin-engined float craft into the battle.

The Morrison was struck and badly damaged. The "Mighty I" steamed to her aid firing "at everything in sight." Then 7 Nippinese suicide pilots peeled off toward the Ingraham. The ship's gunners knocked down six of them in two furious, action-packed minutes. The seventh bored through the barrage of steel from all available ack-ack guns and crashed into the side at the water line, ramming into the crew's mess hall with its bomb exploding in the generator room. So terrific was the blow that an almost perfect imprint of the plane was left in the Ingraham's side.

Forty minutes later rescue tugs took the crippled destroyer in tow and pulled her to safety.

STRATEGIC TANGIER WILL BE RESTORED TO ITS FORMER STATUS

WASHINGTON, July 2.—(AP)—strategic Tangier, seized by Spain in 1940, is going to be restored to its former international status.

When Britain, the United States and France decide how they intend to accomplish this, they will inform Spain.

That is the gist of a state department announcement today which bluntly recalled that on June 14, 1940, Spanish military forces "by unilateral decision" occupied Tangier to preserve its "neutrality." The department repeatedly has stated its dislike for single nation decisions on such matters.

Spanish troops walked into Tangier at the time when it was clear France would fall and when it seemed Britain soon might follow.

Today's announcement said that since the European war has ended "there no longer appears to be any justification for the continued occupation by the Spanish of the international zone." Composed of 147 square miles on the northwest coast of Africa within 29 miles of Gibraltar, Tangier flanks the vital strait that leads to the Mediterranean.

Accordingly, the announcement continued, Britain and France have invited the United States to an informal conference to be held in Paris immediately to talk over what should be done with the zone.

German POW Camp In Corsicana To Be Enlarged

Enlargement of the German prisoner of war camp in Corsicana was revealed at the meeting of the commissioners court Monday. Plans for additional poisoning of grasshoppers in Navarro county were reported, and other matters were considered. All members were present.

Lt. Harold L. Payne, commanding officer of the POW camp here, asked for another building to be moved to the camp from the county farm, stating it was needed as a day room. It was stated the POW personnel was being increased from 175 to 250. The court said a decision would be reached later in the day on what building will be secured for that purpose.

Grasshopper Infestation

H. C. Robinson, county agent, said that grasshopper infestation is worse in Navarro county than in years, and reported to the commissioners that mixing plants were in operation at McLeod, Chatfield, Frost, Rushing, Rice, Kerens, Pursley, Richland, Corbet and Dawson. Robinson said hundreds of dollars worth of poison and brand are furnished the farmers free by the federal government, and his request for storing a part of a car of poison in a local warehouse was granted. The previous storage spaces being used for another purpose by its owner. Robinson said if the poison was scattered broadcast as requested by the government, there is little danger of turkeys and other domestic fowls and livestock being killed.

OCCUPATION

adopted by the quadripartite control council in Berlin.

It was expected here that the movement of American troops to Berlin would be completed by July 4 and that the withdrawal of forces of the western allies from areas allotted to the Russians would be finished at the same time.

A dispach from Madgeburg disclosed that Red army troops already had occupied that center of Germany's synthetic oil industry following the withdrawal of American and British forces.

While there was no official announcement concerning the identity of the America forces en route to Berlin, it was understood that it was the Second armored division. The 82nd airborne division was expected to follow, or perhaps take over the assignment later.

RATIFICATION

without the slightest hitch, Associated Press correspondent Spencer Moosa reported.

Won Wen-Hao, acting president of the legislative Yuan, will refer the charter to the supreme national defense council, which meets today.

Must Await Elections

Ratification in Belgium and Norway must await parliamentary elections in the fall, but the new government in Holland has announced that one of its first steps will be the creation of an emergency Parliament, which would have authority to ratify.

Denmark's Riksdagen, now in session, was expected to act promptly after Danish delegates return to Copenhagen from San Francisco.

Argentina's Foreign Minister, Cesar Ameghino, said last Wednesday that ratification could be expected "soon," presumably by an executive decree by President Edelmiro Farrell.

Mexico's Congress convenes in September and is expected to indorse the agreement quickly.

Transferred to Seattle

Cpl. and Mrs. Quest C. Couch Jr., have been transferred from Randolph Field, San Antonio, to Seattle, Wash., where Cpl. Couch will attend Bowling Aircraft School during the next two months. Mrs. Couch was the former Miss Margaret Metcalf of this city.

ODESSA MAYOR OUT IN OPEN IN BATTLE AGAINST THE OPA

ODESSA, July 2.—(AP)—Mayor A. J. Burks of Odessa in a proclamation climaxing a series of advertisements he has sponsored against the Office of Price Administration yesterday appointed every property owner in Odessa city limits a special officer.

A suit charging rent control violation was filed against Mayor Burks in Pecos federal district court June 20.

The mayor asserted in his proclamation "a dangerous condition has arisen in Odessa," and that he was appointing the property owners special officers, "to check any further confiscation of property without due process of law."

He said that upon being duly sworn in by him the property owners would have full authority to protect life and property at any and all times.

In his proclamation the mayor said "Odessa's and America's No. 1 enemy has been operating in Odessa for some two years and is a complete failure."

He asserted that OPA had "forced our dairies out of business, starved our children for want of milk, almost stopped raising of cattle and hogs x x x confiscated our homes, stopped any income from investments, x x x allowed all prices to rise beyond any reason except rents, x x x made it unsafe for a property owner to ask a renter to move."

Roy C. Hecox, regional OPA enforcement attorney, commenting in Dallas on the mayor's action, said "sour grapes."

Burks, in an interview said today he had received "three or four applications for appointment as special deputies to protect their property against federal rent control."

He said he planned a mass swearing in of all deputies, but had set no time for it yet, and that he would call a meeting of all owners who rented property the latter part of this week or the first of next before the mass swearing in.
